

CHANGE

Stage 2

Affiliate Marketing
(Part 1)

Starting Affiliate Marketing

Affiliate Marketing is the process of reselling Change's training system to others online and earning commission on those sales. When they started their online journey, years before they began Change, Reece and Ryan were Affiliate Marketing under a different system to boost their income. They had to learn what methods and strategies worked best. After realising more about online working and diversifying their portfolios, they established Change. As part of this system, they set up the Affiliate Marketing Panel to allow members to generate income through referrals to the Change system. Change values its members and offers high commissions to help drive their success. Depending on the sale, your commission can be in the thousands boosting your income dramatically.

Training and Tools Available

The system includes a training program to help you learn how to sell Change's system to others. It also teaches you tried and tested methods developed over a long period by its experienced founders and how to establish solid foundations. It also gives you the skills to sell products and communicate effectively with others. These skills are also highly relevant and transferrable to other businesses. By joining Change's Affiliate program, you can access a vast array of resources and knowledge to attract interest and close sales.

Share your Financial Freedom

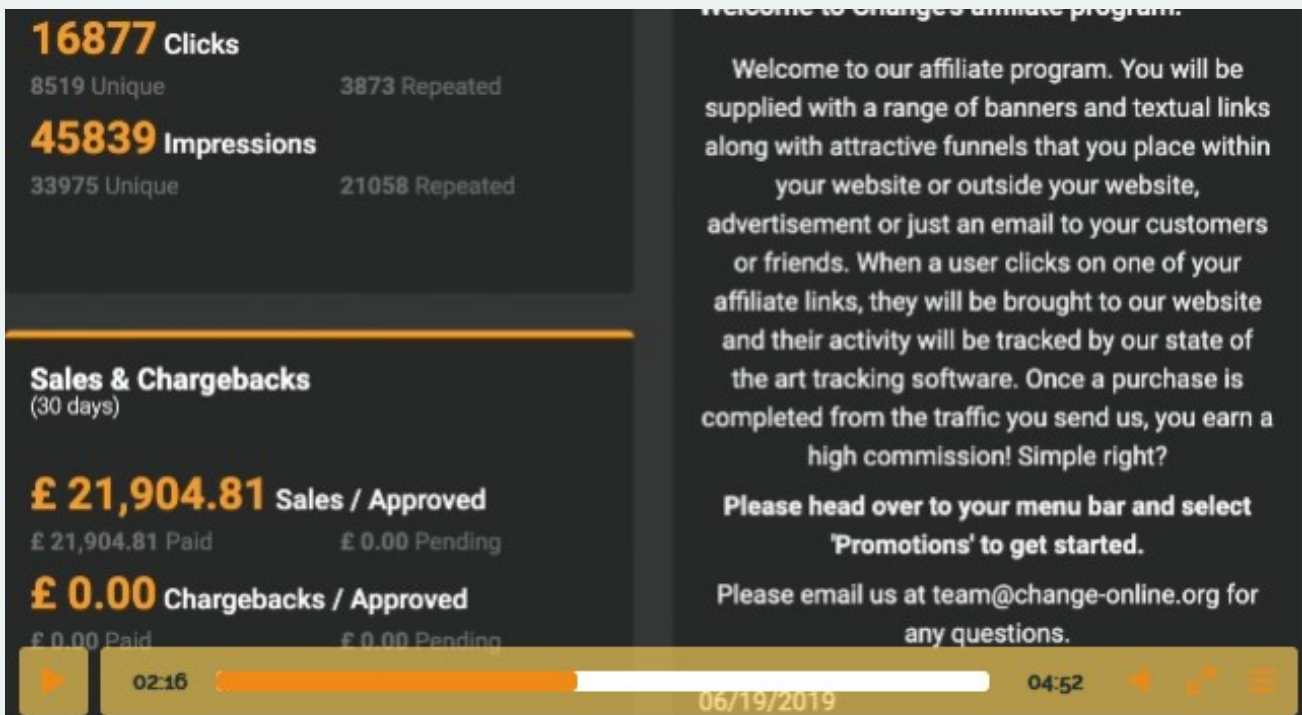

The founders set up Change to give back and share their combined knowledge with others. As an education platform, it aims to teach others how to move online and make money, providing them with financial freedom which they haven't had before. The Affiliate Marketing panel underpins this idea. It provides a source of income for members whilst helping Change reach more people looking for financial freedom or an escape from traditional working life. Its founders understood this journey and developed the system with this in mind. Anyone can use the Affiliate Marketing Panel. Even if your focus is online shipping, you can use the program to boost your income or use it for additional investment in other ventures.
